

Greetings, As the manager of a non profit media center that grants access to the public to community television, radio and the Internet, I want to stress the value of local communication via media to the marketplace of ideas. If information is the currency of democracy then local media is the 'mint' that allows the community to print and share messages freely.

Dirk Koning
Executive Director
Community Media Center
Grand Rapids, MI 49504